2003): A vampire captured by scientists bites back; see page 52.

- ❑ DIRECTOR'S CUT (LANDFALL PRODS./PRO-ACTIVE ENT., 2004): Comedy/horror feature in which four girls take part in a reality-TV fright film that—whoops!—turns out to be really real. On DVD with a photo gallery; see www.landfallprods.com.
- ❑ FEEDERS/FEEDERS 2 (SUB ROSA, 1996/98): The Polonia brothers unleashed carnivorous aliens on Earth, then brought them back for Christmas, and now both movies are on one DVD with audio commentaries, interviews, FX tests and more.
- ❑ IRIA: ZEIRAM THE ANIMATION COLLECTION (ANIMEWORKS/MEDIA BLASTERS, 1993): Bounty hunters battle an alien monster (also seen in Keita Amemiya's live-action Zeiram films) in a remastered anime epic on DVD, with interviews and artwork extras.
- ❑ GODZILLA AGAINST MECHAGODZILLA (COLUMBIA TRISTAR, 2003): You can't keep a good robotic double down as a new incarnation of the metal monster battles its flesh-and-bone alter ego, on DVD subtitled and in widescreen.
- ❑ GOHIKA (WARNER, 2003): Dark Castle says "Thank you Berry much" since

Halle helped make this its biggest hit. The DVD of Mathieu Kassovitz' haunted-hospital opus includes the director's commentary, a featurette and music video.

- ❑ GRAVE MATTERS (YORK, 2004): Kate Vernon bumps off her abusive husband (and other men who victimize her), but he doesn't take the hint and returns as a ghost in Aimee Stephenson's British film. The DVD has a behind-the-scenes feature.
- ❑ HANGMAN'S CURSE (FOX, 2003): A high school is haunted by hallucinations and death in this WOMEN (MONDO MACABRO/VENTURA, 1960): What's the secret behind the female statues in a Dutch windmill? See page 56.

- ❑ THE MONSTER CLUB (PATHFINDER, 1980): It's an all-star fiend fest as Vincent Price, John Carradine, Donald Pleasence and others take part in a British anthology. The DVD is scheduled to include audio commentary and other extras.
- ❑ PANIC ROOM (COLUMBIA TRISTAR, 2003): A three-DVD release allowing plenty of room for supplements: a trio of commentaries

Adamson's second movie (part of which later showed up in Blood of Ghostly Horror) on DVD with commentary by Adamson's old partner Sam Sherman and Rawhide Terror, a Western co-written by Adamson's dad Victor!

- ❑ ST. JOHN'S WORT (ASYLUM, 2001): An odd English title for a Japanese thriller about young video-game designers who pick the wrong house to use as a model. It's English-dubbed and in Japanese with subtitles on DVD, but dubbed only on VHS.

- ❑ SERIAL KILLING 101 (LIONS GATE, 2004): Two students indulge their obsession with multiple murderers while the real thing terrorizes their city. We wish this slasher satire had kept its original title, Serial Killing 4 Dummies.

- ❑ VAMPIRE EFFECT (COLUMBIA TRISTAR, 2003): Originally The Twins Effect, a Hong Kong actioner pitting vampire hunters and the pop duo Twins against undead enemies. Jackie Chan is all over the packaging, but only appears briefly in the film.

- ❑ VAMPIRE JUNCTION (SUB ROSA BLUE, 2001): What's your function? To allow Jess Franco to showcase Lina Romay's charms once more, in a DVD release also including Julián Lara's zombie short Evil Night.

- ❑ ZOMBIE CULT MASSACRE (LD FILMWORKS/SUB ROSA, 1998): Ghouls, fanatics, bikers and assorted innocents clash in an indie gorefest with a truly impressive climax. DVD release with director commentary, featurettes and a 20-page comic.

Mike Lane discovers that The Tenement has more than the usual vermin problem.

Christian-themed youth chiller based on the first of Frank Peretti's Veritas Project novels. The DVD has two featurettes.

(director David Fincher, the cast, scripter David Koepp), multiple featurettes and more.

- ❑ JOHN CARPENTER (IMAGE, 2002): Jamie Lee Curtis, Kurt Russell, Adrienne Barbeau and others talk up the man who terrified them and audiences in this DVD documentary.
- ❑ MILL OF THE STONE
- ❑ POSERS (HART SHARP, 2004): Four club girls kill another, but the party's over when one of them vanishes and more bodies start to pile up in a Canadian thriller by writer/director Katie Tallo.
- ❑ PSYCHO A GO-GO (TROMA, 1965): Al
